Law Degree from the University of the Basque Country (1998).
Maîtrise en Droit Publique, University of Montpellier (1997).
Master of Political and Community Institutions from the Polytechnic University of Valencia (1999). Diploma in Town
Planning from the Basque Institute of Public Administration (2005).
Leadership Programme for Managers, delivered by Deusto
Business School (2014).

She began her career in town planning, the environment and sustainability working in architecture and town planning offices. She currently works with two organisations, Deusto Business School and MET Community, with an overlapping focus on the economy and human rights. At Deusto, she coordinates the Transfer Department, working on projects such as the BBK economic and social observatory and Bilbao Bizkaia Hub Financiero, and at MET Community she is Director for the Basque Country. She is a regular contributor to the media (Radio Euskadi and others) and social networks on issues related to equality, the economy and business.

Her commitment to the equality cause is also demonstrated by her membership of the Doce Miradas collective.
